1.b Why Dowse your House:

1.c Site Description:

1.1 Introduction:

I have been dowsing for more than 30 years, I learnt this skill while working as a driller for a site investigation company carrying out soil testing for building purposes all over the East Anglia region and beyond. I was given my first set of dowsing rods by a geologist who couldn't make them twitch and before he threw them away offered me the challenge. During those times when I first started dowsing I would use this skill to check for mains services which probably saved that company a fortune on insurance claims. We didn't have a scanner. As the years went by I followed my career into the laboratory where I gained a deeper understanding of the soil beneath our feet and so I suppose this would be where my love story for the earth began.

Fast forward many years, a number of books about dowsing and a random invitation from my sister to attend an informal meeting at a local pub, this is where I met my mentor and now friend who has shown me a completely different direction for my talent and to be honest I have found it one of the most interesting and inspiring directions in my life so far.

I have a lot to thank this man for as he has inspired and helped me into a new beginning. I'd therefore now like to take this opportunity to thank all of the established reputable and passionate experts that I have listened to and worked with (on both sides of my mystical and awe-inspiring curtain) who have helped create my new path.

Welcome to NHA Dowsing & House Healing.

1.2 Why Dowse your House:

I believe that everything on this planet has a vibration. These are both positive and negative energies that are held within the materials of this earth and taking into consideration that everything is connected to each other, these energies will have an effect on us humans as well animals, trees and plants alike both positively and detrimentally. There are a substantial number of energies and stress lines that can affect us at home with spiritual activity being one of them.

Spirits who have become stuck on this earth plane can cause distress and should be helped to carry on with their life's journey. One of the most concerning problems that I have observed so far is "Geopathic Stress". (The word geopathic is from the Greek words, Geo, meaning the earth and Pathos, meaning disease or suffering, consequently, suffering of the earth). Geopathic stress is negative energy that travels through water veins in the ground, and if they run beneath your house can cause serious harm to the human body, this energy can be worsened where they cross. These can sometimes appear to have links to spiritual activity. Some areas are associated with increased "occult" phenomena. The relationship between haunted houses and ley lines is well known.

There are so many ailments and problems that can be caused from these detrimental earth energies from general health and mental health issues through to separation and divorce. I've seen and worked on the effects these energy lines have had on some of my clients, and their pets, where they've sat at the bottom of their stairs looking up longingly or twitched in their beds as if somebody has just walked past them and how the vibrations of the house can change once these vibrations have been balanced.

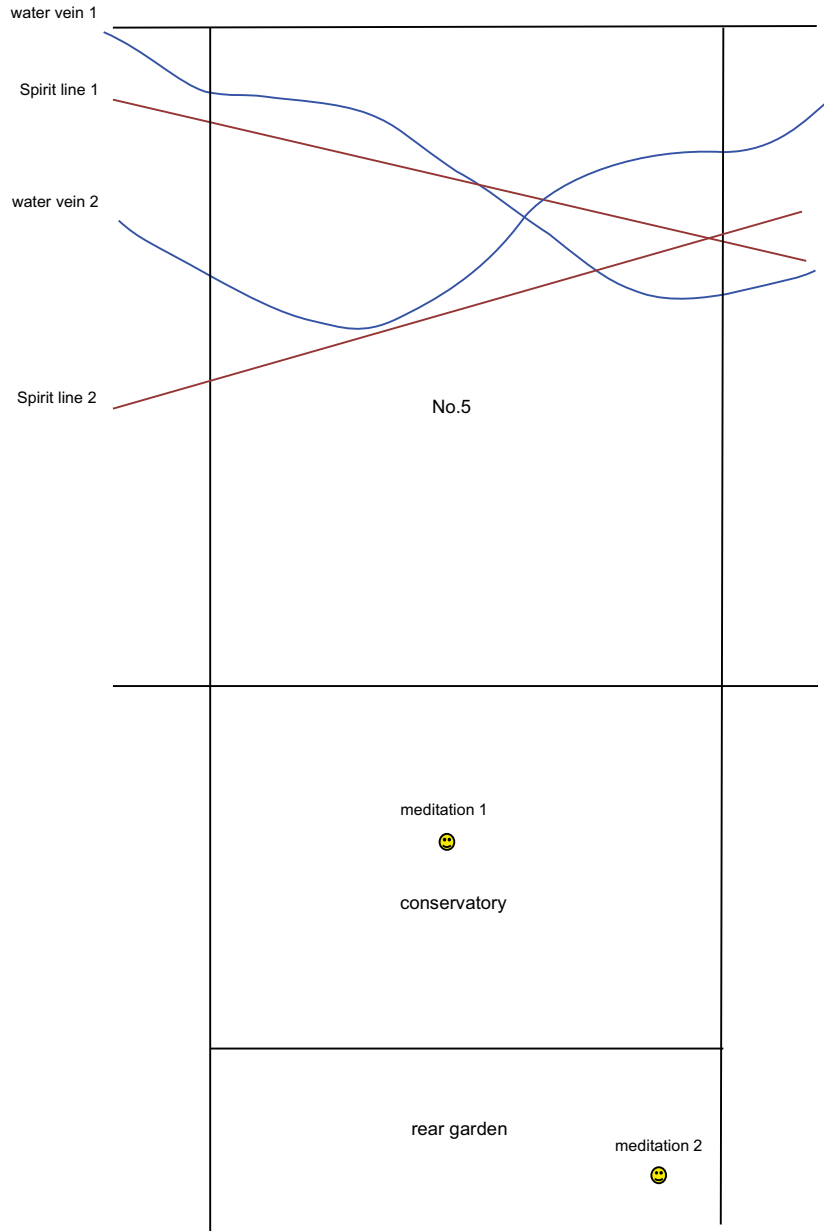

Project

1.3 Site Description:

NHA Dowsing & House Healing has been commissioned on behalf of the householders of this property to carry out house healing work to establish whether or not there are detrimental energies within the boundaries of this house and garden. This is a two storey mid-terraced, two bedroomed house with conservatory leading into the rear garden of the property.

Dowsing Results

The Detrimental values used in these results are based on a 0 to -10 value rating with the value "0" being the best and -10 being the worst.

2b:1 Ghosts, Trapped Souls, and Tricky Spirits:

No residential inappropriate trapped souls were observed at this location during our research although this could be due to the spirits already attached to the client and reacting to any other nearby trapped souls.

2b:1a Spirits attached to the Auric Field:

3 spirits were found attached to the clients' auric field: Detrimental value -4

1 female aged 7 years died approximately 68 years ago attached for 30 years (approx.)

1 female aged 5 years died approximately 42 years ago attached for 18 years (approx.)

1 female aged 3 years died approximately 29 years ago attached for 13 years (approx.)

2b:2 Spirit Lines:

Spirit Line 1 (appeared during approximately circa.1890) Detrimental value -2

Spirit Line 2 (appeared during approximately circa.1910) Detrimental value -3

Crossing point between 1 & 2 Detrimental value -4

2b:3 Water Veins:

Water vein 1: Affected area: 1.40m width
1.10m above Floor Level.
1.30m below Floor Level.
Detrimental value -3

Water vein 2: Affected area: 1.50m width
1.20m above Floor Level.
1.20m below Floor Level.
Detrimental value -3

Crossing point between 1 & 2 Detrimental value -3

2b:4 Beneficial areas for meditation:

Area 1 Conservatory

Area 2 Rear garden

No other detrimental information was found at this location at this time, and I therefore hope you find these observations useful. This information was ascertained by pendulum dowsing of the property footprint, including any available local maps and information supplied by the client. This method allows for independent, clear and un-biased research to be carried out.

Part 2.b

Summary of the problems found at this property.

2.b: 1 Ghosts, Trapped Souls, and Tricky Spirits

All souls should leave the earth plane when they die, however some get lost and trapped here, others die so suddenly that they don't realise that they are dead at first (ie: war, murder, car accident etc!) and then they also become stuck, where some just lose their faith just before their passing. The earthbound soul will continue leading their life as a ghost with time meaning nothing to him/her and generally living on instinct. These souls can drift from one place to another and can be attracted to other happy human life (children's play, laughter etc!). Sometimes, if there are young children at the house and due to their vibrant energies they can often become attached to them and then at times become fiercely protective of them (rather like surrogate grandparents).

All trapped souls give off a certain amount of detrimental energy and therefore need to be released for the benefit of all. Contrary to popular belief spirits don't necessarily need to have lived and died at a property to be there they are often attracted by the energies given off by those that are living there at the time. They can literally follow you home from work, the shops or places that you've been through your day and then become unwanted house guests without the householders being aware of it. They have just become caught between this life and the next and are waiting for their opportunity to leave.

2.b: 1a Spirits attached to the Auric Field

Spirits attached to our Auric Field are usually lost souls that have been attracted to a person and have then managed to enter their auric resistance (our natural defence system) and then become an influencing factor in their lives. In most cases our aura is too strong to allow this kind of attachment, but any form of trauma, stress, illness, depression, unhappiness or times of high stress levels are things that can weaken our protective auric bands and sometimes allow an attachment to establish.

Once they've connected, they can become difficult to move on and can turn out to be an integral part of the affected person. Their victim can become irritable, experience a shortness of temper and suffer with mood swings, headaches, insomnia and nightmares. The affected person may not notice these changes and can sometimes experience chattering voices in their head and have a craving for sugar based food.

The reasons why some people are chosen can be because the spirit liked their energy or perhaps wants to protect a particular person within a group (ie: a mother wanting to protect a young child). It could just be a mischievous spirit wanting to cause problems, by way of experiencing how we function emotionally and love the roller coaster ride of what we call life. These would be found within our auric fields which can become attached to our chakras and need to be removed carefully.

2.b: 2 Spirit Lines

These pathways are used by spirits on a regular basis and may have also been used by them while they were alive. Even though these lines have been built on and the areas developed spirits will use them instinctively. There may be just a few spirits or many hundreds depending on the areas where you live. These lines are not particularly harmful although can be quite distressing for people and pets whose homes are affected by them. (When have you noticed a pet's ears prick up and appear to be watching something across the room which is seemingly not there). These lines can have a detrimental charge attached to them although it would depend on what might have happened on the line to create this.

2.b: 3 Water Veins/Underground Streams

Locating and dealing with the detrimental effects of water veins is a very important part of earth healing as they can be a major factor of geopathic stress. They are known to be the root cause of many illnesses including Auto-immune diseases, arthritis, depression, anxiety, and cancer. The detrimental effects of a water vein spreads out like a funnel as it rises through the earth before reaching its extent.

NHA Dowsing & House Healing

A House, Suffering, Essex.

Having your bed situated above or near a crossing point of water veins can be particularly harmful, as your body relaxes during sleep you can become more vulnerable to these external energies. A deep uninterrupted sleep is so important to us humans because our body repairs and heals itself from the stresses and strains of the previous day.

Symptoms of geopathic stress from water veins flowing under your house and in turn crossing below your bed can appear as disturbed sleep patterns, night sweats, bad dreams and feeling more tired when you wake up than when you went to bed the night before.

These energy patterns carried within the watercourses can vary from underground streams to a small trickle of water, essentially any form of water/rivulets that run beneath your home can carry human emotions and/or earth radiation. They can be very detrimental to you and your family. Crossing points of water are particularly potent.

2.b: 4 Beneficial areas for meditation:

These areas are for peaceful meditation and contemplation, good for inspiration and peacefulness.

This information was obtained by working with the spiritual realms to help discover the potential areas of harmful as well as helpful earth energies that surround us all. No other detrimental information was found at this location at this time, and I therefore hope you find these observations useful

Part 3

Conclusions & Healing Results

3:1 Ghosts, Trapped Souls & Tricky Spirits.

During our research we found no resident spirits at this house, but we did find eight spirits from nearby properties and a further twenty that were connected to the spirit lines that run through your home. All spirits were given the opportunity to leave this earth plane and carry on with their spiritual journey which they accepted and have now left. Sometimes there are spirits that can appear after everything has been cleared (they may have felt afraid and stayed back), I will be checking for that during next week

3:1a Spirits attached to the Auric Field:

We found three female spirits attached to you, all were children and considering that they seemed to have been part of your life for a long time I knew that we had to be careful to ensure we moved them on carefully. We therefore chose to firstly use a fine mesh net of divine light and love to be pulled through the house (a general catchall for any detrimental energies in the home setting) and then through the auric fields of the whole family including the four cats before being moved into a "Spiritual Waiting Room" before helping everybody through a "Spiritual Wall" to ensure all attachments were removed and sent to the light for appropriate disposal.

3:2 Spirit Lines:

We found two spirit lines passing through this location, Line 1 was approximately ½ mile long and 220 years old, Line 2 was 1 mile long and approximately 140 years old. Although buildings are built over these lines/pathways, spirits will continue to use them instinctively and over time, depending on what may have happened on these lines during these past years they can hold a detrimental charge. Bearing in mind that these lines held a detrimental charge I flooded them with divine light and love throughout their lengths and left them in peace, balance and harmony for all time.

3:3 Water Veins/Underground Streams

Two detrimental water veins were discovered running beneath this home so rather than diverting these water veins to an area where they would have no effect on this house nor any of the neighbouring properties, it was decided to heal each vein along their entire lengths depths and breadths by flooding each vein with divine white light and love creating peace, balance and harmony for all living things for all time. Once these veins have been healed appropriately they will bring necessary balance into this area.

3:4 Beneficial areas for Meditation

We found two areas where you can relax for peaceful meditation and contemplation, these are calm areas which are good for inspiration and peacefulness.

3:5 Second Visit 23.8.24

On our second visit I found that all energy lines had settled down to normal living levels and I also found that there were two spirits and two dogs (ex-pets from the past) that had arrived after my last search who I have now also been moved on. Sometimes there can be one or two spirits who are fearful of leaving at first, maybe the fear of the unknown or just like missing the bus, although in this case I feel it was to do with the more dominant attachments that had been living with you which prevented them from leaving or even showing up during my first search so it's always worth checking.

This information was obtained by working with the spiritual realms to help discover the potential areas of harmful as well as helpful earth energies that surround us all.

Kind regards
